

Tiny Prompt Spells for Spicy Brains

Pick your prompt. Add your spell. Make AI work with your brain.

HOW TO USE: Put one or more shortcuts before your request. If AI misses the meaning, add the sentence printed beside the spell.

Example: /tinySteps /visualizeLearning Help me plan a low-content product for overwhelmed ADHD moms.

/tinySteps

Break this into the fewest possible steps. Give me only the first step unless I ask for more.

/oneQuestion

Ask me only one clear question at a time. Wait for my answer before continuing.

/lessWords

Use short sentences, plain language, and plenty of breathing room. Keep only what I need.

/visualizeLearning

Teach this visually with a small diagram, example, table, or simple page mockup.

/bodyDouble

Give me one doable task, stay with me, and wait until I say "done." Then give me the next task.

/humanize

Make this sound warm and natural. Remove stiff wording, repetition, corporate language, and obvious AI phrases.

/brainDump

Organize my messy thoughts without removing my personality, opinions, or useful tangents.

/kidPicture

Explain this for a child with short labels, concrete examples, and picture-style organization.

/makeStickyNotes

Sort the information into small, color-friendly topic groups that read like sticky notes.

/whereDoIClick

Read my screenshot and tell me one exact place to click next. Do not give me the whole process yet.

/vortexVoice

Keep it warm, bubbly, funny, practical, professional, and a little rebellious. No fake personal stories.

/factCheck

Separate facts from opinions, verify current claims with reliable sources, and clearly say what is uncertain.

FILL IN THE BOLD BRACKETS. Copy the prompt, add your details, and paste it into your AI chat.

CREATE A LOW-CONTENT PRODUCT

/tinySteps /visualizeLearning

Help me create an original low-content product for [type of person] who struggles with [problem]. Show me the concept, needed pages, how the pages connect, one sample-page layout, and the smallest steps for creating and selling it. Keep it useful and different from generic products. Do not copy another creator. Ask me one question at a time before making the final plan.

MY BRAIN IS OVERWHELMED

/tinySteps /bodyDouble

Here is everything circling in my brain: [paste the mess]. Help me decide what actually matters today. Choose one task I can begin in ten minutes or less. Wait until I say "done" before giving me another task.

TURN A RAMBLE INTO CONTENT

/brainDump /humanize /vortexVoice

Turn this ramble into a clear [article / email / post]. Keep my real opinions, humor, and natural phrases. Do not invent experiences or make me sound like a teacher, therapist, or corporate robot. Flag any claim that needs a source: [paste ramble]

SHOW ME WHERE TO CLICK

/whereDoIClick /lessWords

Look at this screenshot and tell me what screen I am on and the one exact thing to click next. Use the visible wording from the screen. Wait for my next screenshot before continuing.

EXPLAIN SOMETHING CONFUSING

/visualizeLearning /lessWords

Explain [topic] in plain language. Start with the big picture, then show one small visual, table, or everyday example. Define unfamiliar words. End with the one thing I should remember.

MAKE A CHILD-FRIENDLY EXPLANATION

/kidPicture /visualizeLearning

Explain [topic] for a child age [age]. Use short labels, a friendly example, and a simple picture-style layout. Do not talk down to them. Ask me what they already understand if that would change the explanation.

PLAN A VORTEX PRODUCT

/oneQuestion /tinySteps /vortexVoice

Help me turn this idea into a NeuroSpicy Vortex product: [idea]. First help me identify who it is for, the problem it solves, and the smallest useful version. Ask only one question at a time. Do not create a giant business plan.

CHECK BEFORE I PUBLISH

/factCheck /humanize

Review this draft before publication. Keep my voice intact. Identify unsupported factual claims, confusing wording, accidental repetition, possible copyright concerns, and anything that sounds more certain than the evidence. Suggest only necessary changes: [paste draft]
